

Remembering 9/11

Who was Ken Tietjen?

The Bike Drive

Oral History:

a field of study and a method of gathering, preserving, and interpreting the voices and memories of people, communities, and participants in past events

9/11: First Person

Why should you share?

Oral history is a way to spread not only information, but feelings. There are many facts available about the attacks of 9/11, but facts fail to encompass the terror of that day and the personalities of those who were lost. It is important to share your own story so that not only the facts will be passed on to younger generations, but the true essence of an event that shaped today's world. But over time, details can be forgotten. By sharing your story with us here, whether you were at the World Trade Center or on the other side of the world, you will preserve a lesson for posterity. Join us in passing down history, and help the world to never forget.

You can help by sharing your story.

Below are the stories of others who keep the memories of 9/11 alive:

9/11

9/11 TIMELINE

8:46 a.m. - American Airlines Flight 11 strikes the North Tower of the World Trade Center.

9:03 a.m. - United Airlines Flight 175 strikes the South Tower of the World Trade Center.

9:37 a.m. - American Airlines Flight 77 strikes the Pentagon.

9:59 a.m. - South Tower of the World Trade Center collapses.

10:03 a.m. - United Airlines Flight 93 crashes in a field near Shanksville.

10:28 a.m. - North Tower of the World Trade Center collapses.

Takeaways

- Weather
- Dust
- Unity
- Love and Hate

